Dr Hermann Hauser, General Partner of Amadeus Capital Partners, who joins the Icera Board, said: "We have tracked Icera for some time and we believe Icera's wireless soft modem platform will become established as a leader in the core of mobile phones' designs because of the quality of the team and its technology. We look forward to working with the Icera team to accelerate this."

Stan Boland, President and CEO of Icera said: "Amadeus is an extremely experienced semiconductor venture investor, as witnessed by their investments in companies such as CSR. We are delighted to welcome Amadeus as a major new investor in Icera and look forward to working with the firm as we build our business. Overall, the quality of our backers is an added endorsement of our world-class team, category-defining technology and strong market momentum."

In November 2005, Icera announced that its first products and platforms are targeting the delivery of the world's highest performance, multimode HSDPA Cellular Broadband solution and will be upgradeable through software to support emerging standards and features.
